A National Health Research Committee Initiative

Request for Applications

(2022 enrolment)

About BM-NHSP

The Bongani Mayosi National Health Scholars Programme (BM-NHSP) is an initiative by the National Health Research Committee (NHRC) and a partnership between the National Department of Health (NDoH), the Public Health Enhancement Fund (PHEF) and the South African Medical Research Council (SAMRC). The objective of the BM-NHSP is to fund the training of 1000 PhDs in health and clinical research over the next 10 years. Applications are invited for PhD scholarships tenable in South African universities. Funding is towards the completion of the degree and funding is made available for a full degree period (i.e. prescribed time for a PhD) as a tax-free scholarship for full-time study. The value of the scholarship is equivalent to the after-tax take-home salary of the applicant, in terms of the public service professional scales applicable to the qualification(s) of the candidate (excluding overtime pay). Applicants to note that once the benchmarking process has been completed (based on the criteria at the time) and a scholarship amount has been awarded, it will remain fixed for the full duration of the studies irrespective of a change criteria e.g. additional qualifications/credentials obtained or an increase in Occupation Specific Dispensation scales.

The BM-NHSP aims to contribute positively towards efforts to strengthen and accelerate progress towards equity in research capacity development within the National Department of Health Human Capital across South Africa. Priority will be given to hitherto under-represented designated groups, Universities, and or under researched priority research niches.

The purpose of this particular request for applications (RFA) is to build capacity in CoVID-19 research areas and its impact on the following diseases namely: (i) Maternal Neonatal and Child Health (ii) Communicable Disease (iii) Non-Communicable Disease (iv) Health System Preparedness and Resilience to Pandemic Response (not restricted to CoVID-19). The current funding opportunity is targeting the following health professionals: Professional nurses, Dentists and other oral health specialists, Pharmacists, Dieticians, Medical scientists, Occupational therapists, Optometrists and opticians, Physiotherapists, Psychologists, Speech therapists and audiologists, Biomedical engineers., who are in their first year of PhD study within the specialized research fields of Biostatistics, Data Science, Digital Health, Demography, Epidemiology, , Health Economics, Genomics/Bioinformatics, Microbiology/Virology and Immunology.

The closing date for applications is 15 November 2021, and the outcome of this application will be made before end March 2022 barring unforeseen circumstances. The scholarship will commence on 1 April 2022.

Requirements for application (Check your eligibility before starting your application).

Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA)

As of the 1st of July 2021, the new Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA) came into full effect. The law is designed to protect how all juristic persons use, store and process data. You can read the full details on the act here:

The SAMRC as a responsible statutory science council will comply with POPIA. The SAMRC will receive personal information through applications submitted to the SAMRC for the purposes of applying for funding. The personal information requested on the application template is necessary for the SAMRC to fully evaluate the applications for funding. This information will be shared with members of Scholarship Selection Committees of the SAMRC and external funders and/or stakeholders where applicable as well as the SAMRC management for the purposes of processing the applications. The SAMRC will process this personal information strictly in accordance with POPIA. The SAMRC undertakes specifically to process the personal information on the basis that (a) it was provided voluntarily and (b) the information will be processed only as far may be necessary and within the limitation and ambit of the purpose of evaluating the application for funding (i.e., the purpose with which the personal information was received). The SAMRC confirms that it is lawfully processing the information since the purpose of processing is to seek quality research proposals for funding which the SAMRC is mandated to do in terms of Section 4 of the SAMRC Act 58 of 1991, thus the SAMRC is fulfilling its legislated and lawful mandate, and strategic objectives as provided for in the SAMRC Act.
